There are several ways that EXPD programs support faculty work with students (noted below). For additional information, visit us in Mary Gates Hall 171 or contact program staff listed below.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION AND CONTACT INFORMATION

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>The Carlson Leadership &amp; Public Service Center</th>
<th>FACULTY OR GRADUATE STUDENT INVOLVEMENT</th>
<th>PRESENTATIONS AND EVENTS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>develops service-learning, community-based participatory research, and leadership opportunities for UW students that sustain reciprocal partnerships, deepen learning, advance civic engagement, and contribute to a greater community.</td>
<td>Integrate Service Learning into your courses: Service-learning provides students a unique opportunity to connect coursework with life experience through public service. The Carlson Center staff work with faculty to help them integrate service with course concepts and learning objectives as well as connect the course with appropriate service-learning positions at local community-based organizations. Mentor and advise the EIP students in their undergraduate/pregraduate research projects. These projects enhance the probability admission and funding to summer research opportunity programs nationally for sophonors and juniors, and graduate admission and funding for graduating seniors. Encourage your students to participate in “Different Ways of Knowing” /General Studies 391B that introduces research methods utilized by various academic disciplines.</td>
<td>MLK Week: For decades, Martin Luther King Jr. and his legacy of strength, resilience, and compassion has served as a worldwide touchstone of civic responsibility and action. MLK Week, coordinated by a cross-campus advisory board, is celebrated January 2019. Spring Celebration of Service &amp; Leadership – May 22, 2019 UW students engaged in leadership and service are recognized for connecting academic work with community commitment. This is a cross campus collaboration.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rachel Vaughan, rvaughn@uw.edu, 206-685-2705; Kathryn Pursch Comforth, purschk@uw.edu, 206-616-0784; Sarah Hamilton, sarahh4@uw.edu, 206-618-2864</td>
<td>Office Email: leader@uw.edu</td>
<td>McNair/EIP Research Conference - May 16-17, 2019: EIP students who elect to conduct undergraduate research, present their research projects at the McNair/EIP Research Conference which is held in conjunction with the Undergraduate Research Symposium during Spring Quarter.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Early Identification Program offers a variety of services and resources designed to enable students to enhance their undergraduate experience, explore various career options at the graduate level, and prepare for successful admission to and completion of graduate or professional school. Todd Sprey, tsperry@uw.edu, 206-543-6460; Quyhn Tran, tranp3@uw.edu, 206-543-6460</td>
<td>Mentor and advise the EIP students in their undergraduate/pregraduate research projects. These projects enhance the probability admission and funding to summer research opportunity programs nationally for sophonors and juniors, and graduate admission and funding for graduating seniors.</td>
<td>Study Abroad Fair is November 8 in the Hub Ballroom and regular workshops and activities are offered throughout the academic year. For the most up-to-date information, visit http://www.uw.edu/studyabroad/ or follow us on facebook: https://www.facebook.com/UWGlobalOpportunities/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Global Opportunities Program strives to make study abroad accessible for all UW undergraduates by supporting students as they plan for study abroad, providing financial support to scholarship recipients, and promoting diversity within the study abroad community. Kiana Parker, kmparker@uw.edu, 206 221-6059</td>
<td>Encourage your students to consider study abroad. UW Study Abroad offers many fun events throughout the year to explore study abroad. All students are invited to visit UW Study Abroad, located in 459 Smith Hall, for more information. There are both UW scholarships and external scholarships available. Kiana Parker also holds regular office hours in UW Study Abroad and the Center for Experiential Learning &amp; Diversity in 171 MGH. Other advising locations can be scheduled upon request.</td>
<td>Jumpstart Read for the Record – October 25: raises awareness about the importance of early education by setting a new record for the most children reading the same book on the same day, in communities across the nation. Jumpstart Story Times and Service Events—ongoing. Participate in one-time service events such as reading to a classroom during story times or cleaning up a preschool: locations both on and off campus.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>http://uw.edu/studyabroad/ 206-221-4404 Office Email: goglobal@uw.edu</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jumpstart Seattle at the UW trains and supports teams of undergraduates to tutor underrepresented preschool aged children to build language, literacy, social and social emotional skills. The program allows undergraduates to explore the world of early childhood education, gain a deeper understanding of themselves, and increase their awareness of the diverse communities and neighborhoods in Seattle. Sarah Hamilton, sarahh4wuw.edu, 206-616-2864; Meghan Robinson, meghan7@uw.edu, 206-543-8476; Sala Sakamoto, salsakamoto@uw.edu, 206-543-5514</td>
<td>Encourage your students to apply for: service opportunities, positions that are work-study eligible and offer $1250 AmeriCorps scholarships.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

UNDERGRADUATE ACADEMIC AFFAIRS

206-543-4282 • 171 Mary Gates Hall • Box 352803 • expd.uw.edu

OFFICE OF MINORITY AFFAIRS & DIVERSITY

206-543-4282 • 171 Mary Gates Hall • Box 352803 • expd.uw.edu
The Mary Gates Endowment for Students expands opportunities for undergraduates by providing research, leadership, and honors scholarships that prompt students to articulate their learning goals, identify mentors, reflect on their experiences, and actively engage in their own learning processes. We facilitate community building among scholarship recipients to enhance their experiences as scholars through unique opportunities, social activities, and events.

April Wilkinson, amwilk@uw.edu, 206-616-3925
Janice DeCosmo, jdecosmo@uw.edu, 206-221-6178
http://explo.uw.edu/omssa
Office Email: mgates@uw.edu

Todd Sperry, tsperry@uw.edu, 206-543-2303
Emily Smith, emily42@uw.edu, 206-543-4170
http://explo.uw.edu/scholarships
Office Email: scholar@uw.edu

The Office of Merit Scholarships, Fellowships & Awards (OMSFA) works with faculty and staff to assist UW students in developing the tools and personal insights necessary to compete for local and prestigious national scholarships.

Robin Chang, robcnc@uw.edu, 206-543-5664
Sarah Bishop, srbishop@uw.edu, 206-616-2302
http://explo.uw.edu/pipeline
Office Email: pipeline@uw.edu

The Pipeline Project is a K-12 outreach program that connects undergraduate students from the University of Washington with educational and service opportunities in local and regional schools and community organizations through tutoring and mentoring.

Christine Stickler, castick@uw.edu, 206-616-5564
Sarah Bishop, srbishop@uw.edu, 206-616-2302
http://explo.uw.edu/pipeline
Office Email: pipeline@uw.edu

The Ronald E. McNair Program aims to produce highly competitive graduate school applicants who have the skills and experiences necessary to obtain admission and secure funding to their particular graduate programs.

Christine Stickler, castick@uw.edu, 206-616-5564
Sarah Bishop, srbishop@uw.edu, 206-616-2302
http://explo.uw.edu/pipeline
Office Email: pipeline@uw.edu

The Undergraduate Research Program facilitates research experiences for undergraduates with UW faculty members across the disciplines. URP maintains a listing of current UW research opportunities and national programs, supports department and college-based initiatives and assists faculty with relevant grant writing and mentoring support.

Jennifer Harris, nancoe@uw.edu, 206-616-3586; Jessica Salvador, d2araccia@uw.edu, 206-685-4240
Janice DeCosmo, jdecosmo@uw.edu, 206-221-6178; Dan Herl, dherl@uw.edu, 206-616-4350
www.uw.edu/undergradresearch/ Office Email: urp@uw.edu

Post undergraduate research opportunities on the URP web site. Consult with URP on ways to incorporate undergraduate researchers into your research and scholarly work. Encourage your undergraduate researchers to present their work in the Annual UW Undergraduate Research Symposium and to take advantage of URP advising, information sessions, courses, workshops, conference travel awards, research scholarships, summer research programs and other resources.

Jennifer Harris, nancoe@uw.edu, 206-616-3586; Jessica Salvador, d2araccia@uw.edu, 206-685-4240
Janice DeCosmo, jdecosmo@uw.edu, 206-221-6178; Dan Herl, dherl@uw.edu, 206-616-4350
www.uw.edu/undergradresearch/ Office Email: urp@uw.edu

The Annual UW Undergraduate Research Symposium – May 17, 2019: Undergraduates present what they have learned through their research experiences to a larger audience.

Summer STEM Poster Session – August 15, 2018: Undergraduates participating in summer research in STEM fields present their results.

Summer Institute in the Arts & Humanities Symposium – August 17, 2018: Undergraduates participating in summer research in arts and humanities will present their work in oral presentations sessions in this full-day event.

The University of Washington

The University of Washington

The University of Washington