

Information School
UNIVERSITY of WASHINGTON

Recruiting for Faculty Diversity

The University of Washington Information School is committed to building a culturally diverse educational environment, with a focus on diversifying our faculty. We expect to be hiring new faculty members during the next several years. We are seeking faculty who can teach in these and other areas while contributing to diversity and excellence in our programs and courses through their research, teaching and service.

CURRENT POSITIONS, OPEN UNTIL FILLED

Assistant professor, tenure-track

- Native North American Indigenous Knowledge
- Future of Libraries and Librarianship

Lecturer or Senior lecturer

- Information Assurance and Cybersecurity

2016-17 UPCOMING POSITIONS

Assistant professor, tenure-track

- Data ethics
- Human-computer interaction for social good

Lecturer or Senior lecturer

- Database management systems
- Information systems analysis and design
- Data science

We are looking for candidates who are committed to working with diverse student and community populations. Women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, individuals who identify as LGBTQ and veterans are all encouraged to apply.

We invite you to consider the UW Information School as a potential place of employment and to visit our website: ischool.uw.edu. You can read more about our commitment to diversity: ischool.uw.edu/diversity and find out more about current job openings at ischool.uw.edu/about/jobs/faculty

Feel free to contact us directly to learn more.

Joseph T. Tennis

Associate Professor and Director of Faculty Affairs
jtennis@uw.edu

Cynthia del Rosario

Diversity Programs Advisor
cyn@uw.edu

