Thank you for choosing Emerging Edge Media. This Client Service Coaching Agreement establishes the standards and boundaries of our working together. This Agreement authorizes Emerging Edge Media, Inc.'s Master Coach, (Name) to provide the above-named client the services described in this Agreement, at an agreed-upon fee of US$(TBA).

Below is an outline of Emerging Edge Media, Inc. policies and a description of what to expect of services to be provided:

1) THE COACHING RELATIONSHIP

As your coach, (Name of Coach) serves as your partner in self-discovery, personal growth, goal-setting and goal-reaching. (Coach's Name) goal, through the teaching and implementation of Derek Rydall's Emerging Edge Media, Inc. spiritual principles, is to help you discover within yourself the beliefs or issues that are blocking you from getting all you want out of life, and to help elicit from within you, your own best new ways of 'being' to live more of the life you want to live.

Life coaching is not therapy, and your coach is not a therapist. He/she does not diagnose or treat disorders. This coaching may be effective either as a precursor, complement, or follow-up to therapy. If you are currently in therapy, you are strongly encouraged to inform your therapist that you are also engaged in coaching, to help ensure that their work with you is mutually supportive toward your goals.

Client understands that coaching is not to be used as a substitute for professional advice by legal, medical, financial, business, or other qualified professionals. Client will seek independent professional guidance for legal, medical, financial, business, and other matters.

2) DELIVERY OF SERVICES/OUTCOMES:

Coaching is delivered during regularly scheduled sessions by telephone, Skype, conference call, such as freeconferencecalling.com, Uberconference.com, or IT (or method of your choice).

Although Emerging Edge Media, Inc. coaches work from a specific model in providing coaching services, it is actually you, the client, who determines the overall direction of the coaching, its pace, and eventual outcomes based on your level of commitment and focus.

3) CLIENT RESPONSIBILITIES/RESULTS

In order for coaching to be most effective, the client must make a commitment to take an active part in the process, which may include identifying your own goals and desired outcomes, or doing homework assignments and follow-up activities on your own time between sessions. It is important that you are truthful and authentic, saying what you believe and feel, sharing shortfalls as well as successes – and not just tell your coach what you think he/she wants to hear or what you might wish you could truthfully say. Of course, you are also responsible to pay your coaching fees on time, if under a payment plan, as agreed upon, and to show up to sessions at agreed-upon times, ready to work. Your coach will assist you to realize your own potential, and respect your right to make your own informed and responsible decisions; thus, you need to be aware that results cannot be guaranteed, and that you are entering into coaching with the understanding that the effort and energy you put into coaching will largely determine the outcomes you experience.
